

Gaming Facilities

Commercial gaming facilities exist in 24 states and include land-based casinos, riverboat casinos, racetrack casinos, card rooms, tribal casinos and electronic gaming. Gaming provides statewide benefits such as job creation, tax revenues, local tourism incentives and philanthropic support to charitable causes such as care for the elderly care and homeless youth. The 2018 Supreme Court ruling that opened the door for legalized sports betting in all 50 states has made gaming available to new markets across the nation.

Newmark Valuation & Advisory's (V&A) Hospitality, Gaming & Leisure group combines deep knowledge of gaming markets with extensive industry expertise to value the wide array of going-concern gaming properties nationwide. Our gaming team actively tracks regulatory reforms; statewide, nationwide and global gaming and visitor trends; gaming acquisitions; and the ever-changing landscape of gaming operations and their impact on consumer spending. In addition, we regularly attend the most current education offerings, conferences and events involving specialized gaming areas such as sports betting, esports, regulatory changes and tribal gaming. Newmark V&A's Hospitality, Gaming & Leisure group is the first valuation and advisory firm to have membership with the American Gaming Association (AGA).
