Northern New Jersey Office Market Overview

NEWMARK

Market Observations

Economy

- While the region’s labor market remains on relatively solid footing, the market’s employment growth has slowed, continuing a downward trend while still reporting positive growth of 1.6% year over year. With an unemployment rate of 4.6%, New Jersey has remained above the rising national average of 4.0% since May of 2023.
- The number of office jobs has rebounded, surpassing pre-pandemic levels since the second quarter of 2021, increasing by 0.5% year over year in May 2024. Unemployment has remained stable with employment decreases in the information and financial activities industries.
- Education & Health led all industries in annual job growth in Northern New Jersey at 4.8%. Office-occupying industries didn’t report any annual job gains, with the information industry reporting contraction by 4.7%.

Major Transactions

- Regeneron signed the largest deal of the second quarter for 157,546 SF, they’ll be vacating their existing location at 110 Allen Road in Basking Ridge during the third quarter of 2025.
- NJIT plans to relocate administrative offices with their 74,356 SF sublease of Class A space at 494 Broad Street in Newark.
- Day Pitney signed a 15-year lease taking 55,000 SF at 8 Sylvan Way in Parsippany.

Leasing Market Fundamentals

- Vacancy rates have remained elevated due to older office buildings sitting vacant while occupiers continue a flight to quality towards newer and recently optimized buildings.
- Leasing activity in the market remains slow, reaching 2.3 MSF during the second quarter of 2024. However, second quarter activity increased 4.5% year over year but is still comparatively lower than quarterly activity reported over the last 17 years. The average deal size was 3,518 SF during the second quarter of 2024, an average of 67 SF lower than the prior quarter.
- Overall asking rents were $31.30/SF during the second quarter of 2024, while the year over year decrease was minimal, at 0.6%. It’s expected that asking rents will continue to be elevated throughout 2024 even with softening tenant demand, as landlords offer more attractive concessions.

Outlook

- Economic headwinds will continue to impact the Northern New Jersey office market throughout 2024.
- A shrinking under construction pipeline should lead to rent and occupancy increases in submarkets with premier office space.
- Investment activity in office space will remain low due to the lofty cost of debt and continued elevated inflation.
- Office to industrial and multifamily conversions for antiquated properties will continue to impact the office market, leading to the potential removal of large blocks of available space.

Direct and Sublease Rates Delta Increases

The influx of high-end space to the market caused rent spreads between direct and sublet space to compress throughout 2022 and 2023. Sublease rates have flattened in recent quarters, decreasing 3.9% year over year to $29.08. Sublease space remains attractive to some prospective tenants in the market, highlighted by NJIT’s 74,356 SF deal at 494 Broad Street in Newark during the second quarter of 2024.
